

GRID SYSTEM AT WORK

On the top you will see what a grid system looks like when a layout is being built. The bottom image shows the finished design.

Notice how organized the layout looks.

Easy to read, visually pleasing, important information is clear and highlighted

The screenshot shows the website 'The Grid System' with a red grid overlay. The main title 'The Grid System' is on the left. Below it is a quote: 'The ultimate resource in grid systems.' and another quote: 'The grid system is an aid, not a guarantee. It permits a number of possible uses and each designer can look for a solution appropriate to his personal style. But one must learn how to use the grid; it is an art that requires practice.' by Josef Müller-Brockmann. Below the quote is a search bar. The main content area is divided into six columns: Articles, Tools, Books, Templates, Blog, and Inspiration. Each column contains a list of links to various resources, such as '960 Grid System', 'Geometry of Design', 'InDesign 8.5x11 Grid System (12)', 'UX Magazine', 'Ace Jet 170', 'AisleOne', 'Athletics', 'BBDK', 'Blanka', 'Build', 'Corporate Risk Watch', 'David Airey', 'Dirty Mouse', 'Experimental Jetset', 'Form Fifty Five', 'Grafix Magazine', 'Grain Edit', 'Graphic Hug', 'Helvetica Film', 'I Love Typography', 'Lamosca', 'magCulture', 'Mark Boulton', 'Minimal Sites', 'Monocle', 'Neubau', 'NewWork', 'OK-RM', 'Original Linkage', 'Robin Uleman', 'SampsonMay', 'Schmid Today', 'September Industry', 'Sontyer', 'Soulellis', and 'Subtraction'.
